

My private thoughts and conversations between myself and my friends belong to me and not to the government.